It was a busy year for CanPara with lots of changes. Over 100% of submissions were from readers who wrote-in.

Victor continues to be our dedicated graphic designer and our translators continue to do incredible and consistent work. For advertising, Ned has managed the contracts for the past several years. This year, she announced her retirement from the magazine, with the Oct-Dec issue being her last. Thank you Ned for your passion, your support and your dedicated work with CanPara, you will be missed. We wish you nothing but the best in your future endeavors! I have taken over the advertising position for the interim and am looking forward to fostering the many relationships Ned has managed over the past several years.

CanPara is officially no longer printing issues. The August-September issue was the last one sent out to readers. There may be some print issues in the future, but for now, all issues can be found on Calameo.

Despite some pretty big changes at CanPara, I look forward to the exciting year ahead!
